

VC Treats Women To Special Week

BY BOBBI WAGNER
Assistant Managing Editor

Women students at Valley College will be treated to a week designed especially for them beginning next Tuesday through Friday, sponsored by Associated Women Students.

Kicking off the week of events for the women on campus is a stewardess demonstration being held Tuesday at 11 a.m. in P 100. American Airlines will provide one of their stewardesses for the hour to tell the audience of the qualifications, requirements and other information needed to qualify as an airline hostess.

Fashion Show

"Cherry Blossom Time" is the theme for the major event of the week which will be a fashion show and tea held in the cafeteria Wednesday from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Men students are cordially invited.

Highlighting the event will be the presentation of a bride and two bridesmaids. Clothes for the bridal party are being provided by Bullocks, Fashion Square. All clothes to be modeled exclusive of the finale are being provided by the Gunny Sack in North Hollywood.

Twelve women have been selected to participate as models. Each has participated in modeling classes during the past two months in preparation for the coming event. The 12 models were selected from the membership of the classes by Miss Virginia Waldron, instructor of the training; Dr. Margaret Crawford, assistant dean of students and Associated Women Students' sponsor; Linda Moordigian, AWS president; and Bobbi Wagner, Women's Week coordinator.

Models

The models include Pam Franco, Nanette Grey, Yolanda Velez, Coral Copperberg, Lynne McLean, Carol Cherney, Benita Richter, Garnetta Reynolds, Cheryl Ayer, Sue Overholtzer, Hope Baskin and Sally Case. Misses Case and Baskin will model tennis outfits.

Eight male members of the student body have been selected to escort the models who will be wearing formal attire. Kit Putnam, Tony Sartori, Ken Burr, Harley Byrd, Bob Spinnler, Larry Bohanan, Dana Simmons and Mike Gordon have volunteered to help the afternoon event.

Donna Starr, member at large for the AWS, has been named Fashion Coordinator for the fashion show.

'Cherry Blossom' Theme

The theme of "Cherry Blossom Time" will be carried out in gold and white decorations with accent being added by the use of pink and lavender. The affair is being catered by a private party with the decorations being provided by AWS.

A representative from the Gunny Sack has offered to commentate the show, featuring sport clothes, school wear, dressy apparel, formal gowns and accessories.

Escorts

Three of the escorts will be attired in white dinner jackets and will participate in the wedding party. The men's clothing is being donated by a Sherman Oaks men's store.

Friday night a turnabout dance tops off the week of activities beginning at 9 p.m. in the cafeteria. The theme of "Lollipops and Roses" comes forth in decorations which include a semi-circle of red, white and pink crepe paper behind the bandstand, large smiles of lollipops and roses throughout the room, accents of additional color representing the season and tubs of lollipops for eating pleasure as well as decor.

Suit and tie, and dressy apparel is the appropriate dress for the dance. Live music is being provided by a local band.

PETITIONS DUE

Petitions for A.S. offices are due at noon tomorrow in B 24, said Bruce Ewald, commissioner of elections. All students wishing to run for a student body office may secure a petition in B 24 and must have it completed by the 12 o'clock deadline. Petitions have been available since Monday.

Burr, Carruth Seek Presidential Post

BY COLLEEN FERGUSON
City Editor

A.S. Treasurer Ken Burr and Star Editor Brent Carruth will battle for the presidential post in the spring A.S. elections as candidates prepare to open campaigning Monday.

The only presidential contenders as of the Tuesday Valley Star deadline, Carruth and Burr will outline their campaign platforms to the student body at an election assembly Tuesday at 11 a.m. in the Quad.

Assembly

The assembly had been planned by Bruce Ewald, commissioner of elections. A.S. President Henry Miller will moderate at the assembly where all candidates for office will be presented and all students running for an opposed office will be given the opportunity to present their platforms.

A Star press conference with the two presidential candidates will be held tomorrow at noon in Business-Journalism 114. All students are welcome to attend.

Burr, presently A.S. treasurer, served on the Executive Council as commissioner of men's athletics last semester.

Carruth is presently editor of the Star and is on the Dean's List.

Vice Presidency

Ted Weisgal, Peter Deyell and Larry Bohanan have entered the vice presidential race. The vice president also serves as president of Inter-Organization Council.

Bohanan has served on the council as AMS president and headed the recent Red Cross and Blood Drives on campus.

Weisgal is the second member of the Star staff contesting for an A.S. office. Currently news editor on the Star, he served as president of Hillel last semester and is now Sophomore Class vice president. He has represented both organizations on IOC.

Deyell, a theater arts major, is commissioner of fine arts this semester.

AMS President

As of Star deadline only one other office has opposing candidates. Mike Smith, recently appointed coordinator of campus services by the council, and Walter Michaels, coordinator of social affairs on the AMS board, vie for the position of AMS president.

Three council members will seek re-election unopposed: Chris Royce, commissioner of scholastic activities; Harley Byrd, commissioner of public relations; and Ewald.

Russ Woodward, Freshman Class president, is yet unopposed for the office of treasurer.

Voting

Monday, May 11 through Tuesday, May 12 will mark voting days. Balloting will take place between the hours of 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. and 7 and 9 p.m. at polls located in the Quad, cafeteria, theater arts building and library.

Run-offs, if necessary, will take place Wednesday, May 13.

A meeting of all candidates will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. in B 26. All candidates must be present or provide a representative.

Candidates may begin campaigning Monday at 8 a.m. No campaign material may be distributed or posted until this time, and candidates campaigning illegally will be subject to disqualification by the election committee.

Petitions are still available in B 24 for students interested in running for student office, and several offices have no candidates.

"I hope to see all offices opposed by tomorrow's deadline," said Ewald. "I look forward to greater student interest and a record turnout of students voting."

Petitions for Prom Queen will be available next Monday, according to Ewald.

Rolfe Wins $10 For First Place Sonnet Entry

The creator of the winning Shakespearean sonnet writing contest, R. S. Rolfe, will receive $10 for his first place entry entitled "Sum and Substance."

Placing second and third in the sonnet contest were poets Norine Davis and Clark McCann, who will be presented $5 awards.

Honorable mention went to writer Alice Skone-Palmer. English instructors Shirley Lowry, Marion Blythe and Stephen Statham selected the winning entries.

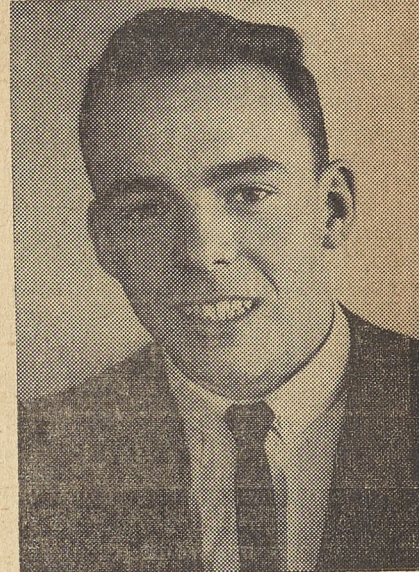

Rolfe's "Sum and Substance" will be read during the slated Shakespearean Festival activities.

CAMPUS MUSIC

The San Fernando Valley State College Symphonietta, under the direction of Myron Snadler, conductor, will perform today as part of the weekly Campus Concert Series.

On Tuesday the Westwood Woodwind Quintet, made up primarily of UCLA students, will visit Valley.

Both concerts will be held in the Choral Room of the Music Building.

KEN BURR
A.S. Treasurer

Press Meets Candidates

A.S. presidential candidates Ken Burr and Brent Carruth will face an inquiring battery of reporters and students tomorrow at a press conference in the Valley Star city room, BJ 114 at noon.

In the Star-sponsored conference the two will propose their platforms and answer questions on issues pertinent to the campus, reported Star City Editor Colleen Ferguson, who will coordinate the conference.

Press Meet Begins

The press conference for presidential candidates was started two semesters ago in the contest between Jack Easton and Flo Jarmula. At that time the conference produced definite clear-cut issues between the candidates.

Interested students have been invited to attend by the Star, and they will be able to pose questions to the candidates.

Issues

One of the many hot issues between the two is the current "cigarette controversy." Burr supports the Executive Council decision abolishing cigarette machines on campus, while Carruth feels that cigarette sales should be allowed.

Among other topics to be considered will be campus budgets and financing, a speaker policy and college identity.

Students Get 'Taste of Honey;' Eddie Cano To Perform Today

BY TED WEISGAL
News Editor

The "Taste of Honey" man, Eddie Cano and his quartet come to Valley's Men's Gym this morning at 11 for a special student activities assembly.

Veterans of performances at the prominent Hollywood night club P.J.'s, the quartet will present their well known Afro-jazz sounds.

Cano will be featured on piano and will be amply supported by Freddy Acquire on drums, Carlos Mejia on the bongo and congo drums and Leon Cardenas on bass.

Los Angeles Residents

All but Mejia are life-time residents of Los Angeles and graduates of the Los Angeles Junior College School District.

Cano, 34 years old, attended Los Angeles City College and the L.A. Conservatory of Music.

In addition to their presentation of "Taste of Honey" which sold over 250,000 records, Cano said, "We will play 'Cotton Candy,' 'Green Dolphin Street' and 'Laura.'"

No Set Program

"When we present a show like this we don't set up a program that we will have to stick to. Instead we try to feel out the audience to see what type of music they will like."

In the past few months the quartet has been giving many presentations of this type. Colleges they have visited include Pasadena, El Camino, Santa Monica and Valley State.

Seven years ago Cano organized the quartet and since that time he has recorded for the Reprise, RCA Victor, United Artists and GNP label. He is a member of American Society of Composers, Arrangers and Publishers (ASCAP) and has 67 tunes to his credit.

Travels

The quartet's popularity has sent them traveling throughout the United States and last summer on a tour of Australia and New Zealand with Louis Armstrong.

The Afro-jazzists also spent part of the summer on the same bill with the Kingston Trio on a tour throughout the U.S.

This summer the quartet is billed to appear at the well known jazz spot in New York City, Basin Street East. They are also scheduled to appear at Chicago's London House.

When summer ends in North America, the quartet will again travel to Australia for the summer season. Upon his return from the land down under Cano and his colleagues will return to P.J.'s.

Since the release of his first album, "Eddie Cano at P.J.'s," which has sold between 150-200 thousand, the services of the quartet have been highly sought after. Because of this factor the management of the Santa Monica Blvd. nitery offered Cano a percentage of the club.

Draws Crowds

He has been well worth the offer, for in the three years that he has been at P.J.'s, six nights per week, the club has been packed.

Tomorrow night the quartet opens a one-night stand at the Lighthouse in Hermosa Beach. He will continue to appear there throughout the summer one or two nights per month while also appearing at P.J.'s.

Panel To Discuss Health Careers

This week's Occupational Exploration series will present a panel discussing Health Careers. The three representatives will analyze such fields as medicine, nursing, occupational therapy, nutrition, and X-ray in C 100 at 11 a.m. next Tuesday, May 5.

Conducting the panel will be Mildred Holloway, an instructor in nursing here at Valley. Mrs. Holloway has been a teacher here since 1961. She earned her B.S. from San Fernando Valley State College and her M.A. from Los Angeles State College.

Physical Therapist

Warner Owens, a registered physical therapist from St. Joseph's Hospital in Burbank, will be second on the panel. He was just recently appointed chief RPT at the hospital.

Owens is a graduate of UCLA and completed his physical therapy training at Children's Hospital's School of Physical Therapy where he received the Kate Crutcher Awards as one of the outstanding members of his graduating class.

He has since held positions at several clinics and hospitals and for the past 15 months has been a staff member of the Valley Physical Therapy center. In addition, he is an active member of the American Physical Therapy Association.

Third on the panel will be Dr. Reuben Straus, M.D., also from St. Joseph's Hospital.

Pathology Specialist

Dr. Straus, a specialist in Pathology, received his A.B. from Western Reserve University in 1929. He earned his M.D. at the Western Reserve University, School of Medicine, in 1932. He served his internship at Mt. Sinai Hospital in Cleveland in 1932 and 1933.

Prior to his being appointed Director of Research at St. Joseph's, he served as chairman of the research committee at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in L.A. In addition, he is also Director of Laboratories at St. Joseph's. Supplementing this position, he has been Director of Laboratories at both Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in L.A. and at Centinela Hospital in Inglewood.

Additional Awards

In addition to awards offered by Beta Phi Gamma, Miss Baird, along with all entries of the contest have been offered several awards from off-campus sources.

The newly elected Miss Photogenic has been invited to enter a Miss Palm Springs contest. Her entry fee will be paid if she chooses to compete in the contest.

TV Training

Teen Screen Modeling Studios will provide a 12-week modeling course and a make-up case for the photo queen. They will also give each finalist a four-hour introductory program including modeling, drama and television training and a personal interview and free analysis to all 51 Miss Photogenic contestants.

The first annual Miss Photogenic contest was a fund-raising event, with money being collected through a pay-vote system.

Learning Process

All photographs were taken by students in the photography department with the winning photo taken by Mikki Rohaly.

"The Miss Photogenic contest proved to be a great success," said Colleen Ferguson, Beta Phi Gamma president, "and I know that each future competition will be more successful than the one before."

Rights Movement Stalls in N.Y.

The powerful Negro civil rights movement took a big step backward in last week's ill-considered and illegal actions at the World's Fair in New York. Without claiming prejudice on the part of anyone connected with the Fair, or even implying that there was any type of racial discrimination, the New York chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality called for and partially carried out a "stall-in" intended to completely immobilize the 50,000 people attending the Fair.

In its over-zealous attempt to correct living conditions for the members of its race, the members of CORE seriously damaged the civil rights movement in this nation.

The fact that the CORE chapter was expelled from the national organization left little comfort to believers in moderate, legal action when the national president of the Congress of Racial Equality was himself arrested for failure to heed the commands of police on hand to help control the many civil rights demonstrators.

The civil rights battle now facing the nation is far too serious to be connected with the irresponsible extremists.

The acme of irresponsibility was reached by the self-proclaimed leaders of the civil rights movement. Congressman Adam Clayton Powell and CORE executive secretary James Farmer did little to help the equality movement by their words and actions that provoked disobedience to the law.

It is these same leaders who demand obedience to the civil rights laws already enacted and press for the passage of the pending civil rights bill, yet disobey state and city ordinances in their zest for equality.

The demonstrations at the New York Fair were ill-conceived, ill-timed and in poor taste. Their sole purpose was to attract publicity, not correct any grievances. It is a credit to the citizens of New York that the vast majority of civil rights advocates dissociated themselves from the policies and actions of the New York CORE chapter.

Culture Should Come to Campus

Valley College needs culture, and the Shakespeare Fair which marked the quadricentennial of William Shakespeare's birthday, awakened that need in the students.

Through the fair, Valley College was given that "taste of culture" which the Star hopes might whet the appetites of the culturally hungry and arouse enough interest in other similar events.

The Star recommends an annual week-long program comparable to our recent Shakespeare Festival in which the whole student body, faculty and administration participated and contributed to a successful cultural page in Valley's history.

The proposed plan would include a yearly program of events of this type, using the fair as a guide for future plannings. This guide would not necessarily disregard the possibility of having an annual Shakespeare week.

Occidental College holds an annual Shakespeare Festival, which has given nationwide acclaim to the school. It includes a fair, plays, and authentic atmosphere throughout the week long celebration. This is just one example.

The possibility also exists where during this week at Valley—high schools could be asked to prepare plays, etc. pertaining to the theme of the particular week. College departments could all contribute, along with clubs and faculty members.

The Star feels that this Shakespeare week was something new. It was the foundation for a new type of cultural education for Valley students. A job well done!

It's a Dog's World

Patti Baird Is Man's Best Friend

BY BRENT CARRUTH
Editor

Man's best friend—a pet cocker spaniel—turned trader and instead rates as a real favorite with Valley's photogenic queen, Patti Baird.

SUSIE, a brownish cocker, showed that it's really a dog's world when she almost shook her tail off while enthusiastically greeting her 20-year-old master. The photogenic beauty showed that she's not only a pretty picture behind the camera, but also a picture of warmth with her pup.

Just as Susie played favorite with the wrong sex, Patti Baird no doubt can fill the void as "man's best friend."

Though on the smallish side, Miss Baird makes journalists want to become photographers. And the worst photographer is always guaranteed a good print. She's just that type of girl.

BUT THERE is another side of Patti Baird. Luring as she is, Beta Phi Gamma's reigning queen has deep-seated convictions about life, and she is going to put in "her two cents worth."

After graduating from George Washington High School, she went to work at the telephone company long enough to pay for a sleek Corvair, but decided it was "back to school" when she realized that opportunities were limited without an education.

Even though giving up her job to return to school, Patti still plays an important part in the telephone company, according to Mrs. Baird. "Now she supports them," Mrs. Baird claimed. It seems that the photo queen has a nightly hot line with her twin sister, Linda, who is married.

BACK IN SCHOOL, she has taken up data processing because of an interest which was fostered during her time in the telephone business. It seems now that she has donned the scholar's garb again that the pretty queen isn't going to give it up so easily this time. Now she has plans of going on to UCLA.

THOUGH SHE IS decidedly rusty at the piano, she plays a pretty tune at whatever she is doing. Patti is as agile in the kitchen as she is with the text books.

She is a typical college student in that she finds little time to rest. By her own admission, she is on the go all day and by night fall she has all her homework to do.

"Patti spends every night there," said Mrs. Baird, pointing at the dining room table. She finds little time during the week to take time off for her hobbies. She's going to school for a reason—that comes first.

WHAT WAS to be a day with Miss Photogenic, Patti Baird, was misinterpreted by her pet cocker and turned into a Valley Star day with Susie. Everywhere Patti went, Susie went. Almost like a shadow, the cocker was determinedly inseparable from her master.

Though the facts are stacked in Patti's favor, the playful pup's faithful attentiveness gives a better portrait of her warmth than do her records. Susie, born a year ago on Valentine's day, isn't camera shy as she continuously jumped on Patti's bed to give her master a loving lick with her tongue.

SO MAYBE SUSIE isn't man's best friend, but Patti Baird sure is.

PATTI AT HOME—Patti Baird, newly crowned Miss Photogenic, poses with her pet dog as she relaxes at home after the announcement of her victory was made this week. Miss Baird is a graduate of George Washington High School and had worked for the telephone company before attending Valley. She is interested in cooking, sewing and other household duties as well as school, but says school comes first at the present time.

Valley's Scarlet Letter

WAY OUT

Politicians Present '64 Election Image

BY MIKKI ROHALY, Copy Editor

This year being an election year, we hear talk about the numerous politicians scouring the country, seeking election or reelection to the top positions in our government.

A few of these men are Pres. Lyndon Johnson, Sen. Barry Goldwater, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, and Henry Cabot Lodge. These names dominate the news pages of our daily papers, and are just a scattering of the hundreds of office seekers branded as politicians.

THIS WORD "politician" is used so much today that a definition would not seem in order. Yet on the other hand the only concrete meaning we have is according to Webster, who states that it means "one who is skilled in government or a person closely affiliated with a political party." This hardly touches on the actual meaning when an analysis is done of one or more of these men identified as a "politician."

First of all the man or woman involved, of course, must have a definite skill in the running of the government, and the talents they must use to get elected in order to use those skills is very fascinating.

The politician must be able to recognize a situation that will "get votes." The main portion of his time is spent speaking and attending dinners in his behalf, while putting on the air of the "common man."

HE COVERS the United States in campaign tours talking to the laborers and common people who make up the mass of the population (the voters).

An example of this type of situation occurred just recently when President Johnson stopped to talk with a seven-year-old girl while on a campaign tour. Of course Johnson may have wanted to give this youngster the thrill of her life by a meeting with the President, yet on a politician's instinct, he recognized the potential of a "vote getting" situation. Many people would now see him as a fatherly type and for this reason switch their votes to him.

NELSON ROCKEFELLER also is a "politician" who is constantly trying to create the "common man" image—yet the only way he is able to do this is with a few million dollars and a large publicity staff.

Aside from these tricks of the trade, healthy lungs, powerful vocal cords and a strong shaking hand is also a necessity. The politician must shake hands with every prospective voter and as the old saying goes "kiss every voter's baby." Yet he is always ready to shake another hand.

The politician must most of all be a finagler. This is his most secretive skill. He can always talk his way into some place where he is not supposed to be, and has the ability to convince anyone that the most unbelievable stories are true.

These little skills or tricks get him elected. There is, however, quite a bit more involved than just knowing the workings of the government. We must have a more complete definition of the work which includes a little knowledge of the tricks of the trade. What are the tricks? The politician will never tell, for that's what makes him a POLITICIAN.

VALLEY FORGE

Forge Retires During Election

BY BRENT CARRUTH, Editor

Not only has political fever overtaken the campus, but Monday I became deeply entrenched in the battlefield activities, becoming a candidate for the student body presidency.

BEING A PRESIDENTIAL hopeful, it would be easy to use Valley Forge and the Valley Star in general for campaigning benefits. But this will not be the case.

In accordance with the Star's code of ethics and my own personal code, the Forge will be retired until after the elections May 11-13.

Brent Carruth

As editor of the Star, I have covered the Executive Council during the course of the semester, but exercising editorial prerogative I will remove myself from that beat during the campaigning and voting. This, I believe, will be to the good of the campus and will help the Star remain the impartial voice of Los Angeles Valley College.

Not only shall these moves be activated immediately, but I have also removed by name as chairman of the editorial board on all matters concerning the council and candidates seeking office.

MY PRESIDENTIAL opponent, treasurer Ken Burr, has been informed of the Star's impartial stand on the forthcoming election. There seems to be no call, as Burr agrees, for mud-slinging to take place in the campaign.

The treasurer and I have become good friends during the course of the current term while I have been covering the Executive Council's legislation. We feel that issues must do the speaking.

Though a good friend, Burr and I are diametrically opposites on such action as his recent stand for taking cigarette machines off campus. But we are both hopeful that the facts will come out, and I have spoken with Freshman Class President Russ Woodward about the possibility of holding a Town Hall Forum on the cigarette question.

THE REASON that I entered my name on the candidates' roster Monday stems from my strong belief that student government at Valley stands on the cliff's edge. The students, it is my thought, must have a choice between two people with strong views.

But as far as the Star's role in the election, it will remain impartial as ever. In fact, the staff members have been instructed to bend their backs to be overly fair. As much as I want the chance to serve as student body president, I have a greater hope that my staff will remain top journalists—remembering that their opinion is not "news."

I HAVE FULL confidence in the ability of the Star editors and writers to report the facts. Now, let's hope that the political war will be conducted on a battlefield of facts and issues which are interpreted accurately by the voters.

LION'S ROAR

Baseball Team Lauded For High Morale Spirit

Editor:

This letter is to express our thanks to the Valley College baseball team for proving at San Diego last Friday that the spirit of the Valley College athletic teams can take them to victory even without the spirit of the school behind them.

This was displayed up to the last moments of the 14th inning. The team kept its morale in high gear even though San Diego was a heavy favorite.

Although each individual on the team did his part to keep up the morale throughout the 14 innings that finally led to victory, most of the credit for the esprit de corps must be accredited to the captain and the two top hitters of the team.

It is unfortunate that the team's spirit could not have been shared with more Valley students this year. Perhaps in the future Valley students will support the teams they now so highly criticize.

DONNA STARR

Editor:

I would like to correct some misleading statements made by Lee Rosen in his recent letter to the Star.

The Executive Council voted to remove the cigarette machines, not merely to submit a report. Henry Miller did not block a minority report; no such report was or could be made.

The charge that Miller refused to allow the individual votes of the council to be recorded in the minutes is a complete misrepresentation of the facts. As Rosen knows, the votes are individually polled and recorded in the minutes if any member requests a roll call vote. No such request was made. Had Rosen really wished to have his vote recorded in the minutes, he only needed to ask and his grandstand letter of false accusation would have been unnecessary.

I feel that we are ignoring the crucial point in the cigarette machine question. If we wish to sell cigarettes at Valley College, we have a responsibility to ourselves and the community to prevent minors from buying them here. We cannot ignore our responsibilities simply because other schools and other individuals choose to wink at the law.

Other schools have cigarette machines, and so should we—if it can be done without inviting minors to buy here. But let's not compromise the integrity of the Associated Students and of Valley College simply to obtain a petty convenience.

Editor's note: This is an open letter from Jim Hamra, Automotive Editor at Van Nuys News and Greensheet, to Roy Beaumont, associate professor of English.

Your April 2 letter in the Valley Star is an amazing example of bad taste.

I know nothing about what you said at the forum and am ready to believe you were completely misquoted; but your remarks about the Valley Fishwrapper overstep the limits of reasonable criticism.

It would be no hard task for a writer to reply to you in kind with a nasty feature story on English professors. I'm sure the assorted riff-raff known laughingly as the Fourth Estate will, nonetheless, use some of the logic you say it needs and hold its typewriters.

Deadline Set For Faculty

A deadline of May 15 has been set for faculty members to submit names of applicants for the man and woman of the year competition.

Seven colleges will be competing for this distinguished title to be decided June 4 at the Statler Hilton hotel when the finalists will be chosen.

The committee which will select one man and one woman to represent Valley College consists of Dean William Lewis, Jackie Vigor, Henry Miller and Russ Woodward, chairman.

To qualify for nomination, an applicant must have a grade point average of 3.0. They will also be judged on personal appearance, service to both school and community and must be endorsed by the faculty.

Russ Woodward, Freshman class president, said, "It is significant to the college that if we have a winner, it will mean added prestige and community recognition for both students and faculty."

Woodward Wins Scholar of Month

Russell Woodward, Freshman president and political science major, has been selected as Scholar of the Month for May.

Woodward, in his second semester at Valley, is a member of Knights, the honorary men's service organization on campus and is a member of the Les Savants honor society. His name has also appeared on the Dean's List.

He has maintained a 3.6 grade point average throughout his first semester while taking 16½ units.

The 18-year-old scholar was graduate from Grant High School where he was a math-science major. He is a resident of Van Nuys.

Interest in Debate

While at Grant, Woodward was a member of the debate team. He has joined a debate team at Valley and has traveled to Santa Barbara and Whittier with the team.

Woodward is a man with definite views, as is proven by his membership on the debate team and his participation in Quadraggers.

Last semester he spoke in the Quadraggers series on "Extreme Right Wing Views."

He obviously wants to remain active in school government as he is Freshman president this semester and has announced his candidacy for the office of A.S. treasurer.

Woodward is also well traveled. He went to Europe last year for two months with the American Youth Hostels group.

Woodward plans to go into the field of law after leaving Valley.

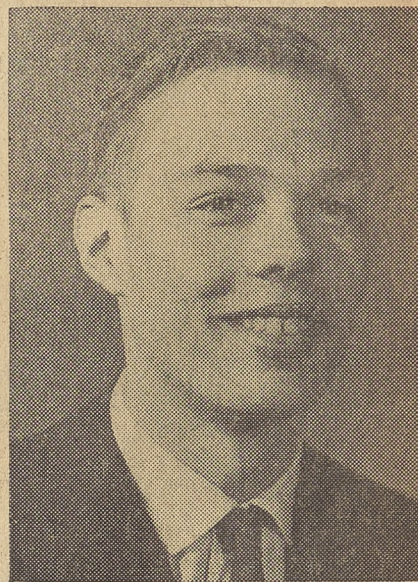

"I hope to go to Harvard if I can scrape up the money," he said.

Heads Forum

The new scholar of the month is in charge of the Town Hall forum, which has become one of the high spots on campus.

"I think he has great potential and could be one of Valley's most outstanding leaders, as evidenced by his work with the Town Hall Forum. We, in student government, realize that with more students like Woodward we could become one of the top J.C.'s in the country," said A.S. President Henry Miller.

"I hope that in the future Valley students will continue with their interest in this event," said Woodward.

Council Praises Club Members

Campus organizations will now be honored by IOC with the recognition of their most active members.

Once a month each club represented in the council is invited to submit a member's name for recognition of his service to Valley, according to Mike Smith, Executive Council member.

Scrolls, commemorating the winners for outstanding work, will be given at the annual IOC banquet.

An applicant must have an overall 2-0 grade point average. The president and sponsor of the club may submit possible candidates for the award. The awards committee will take into consideration activities both on and off campus, number of units attempted and the employment status of the applicant.

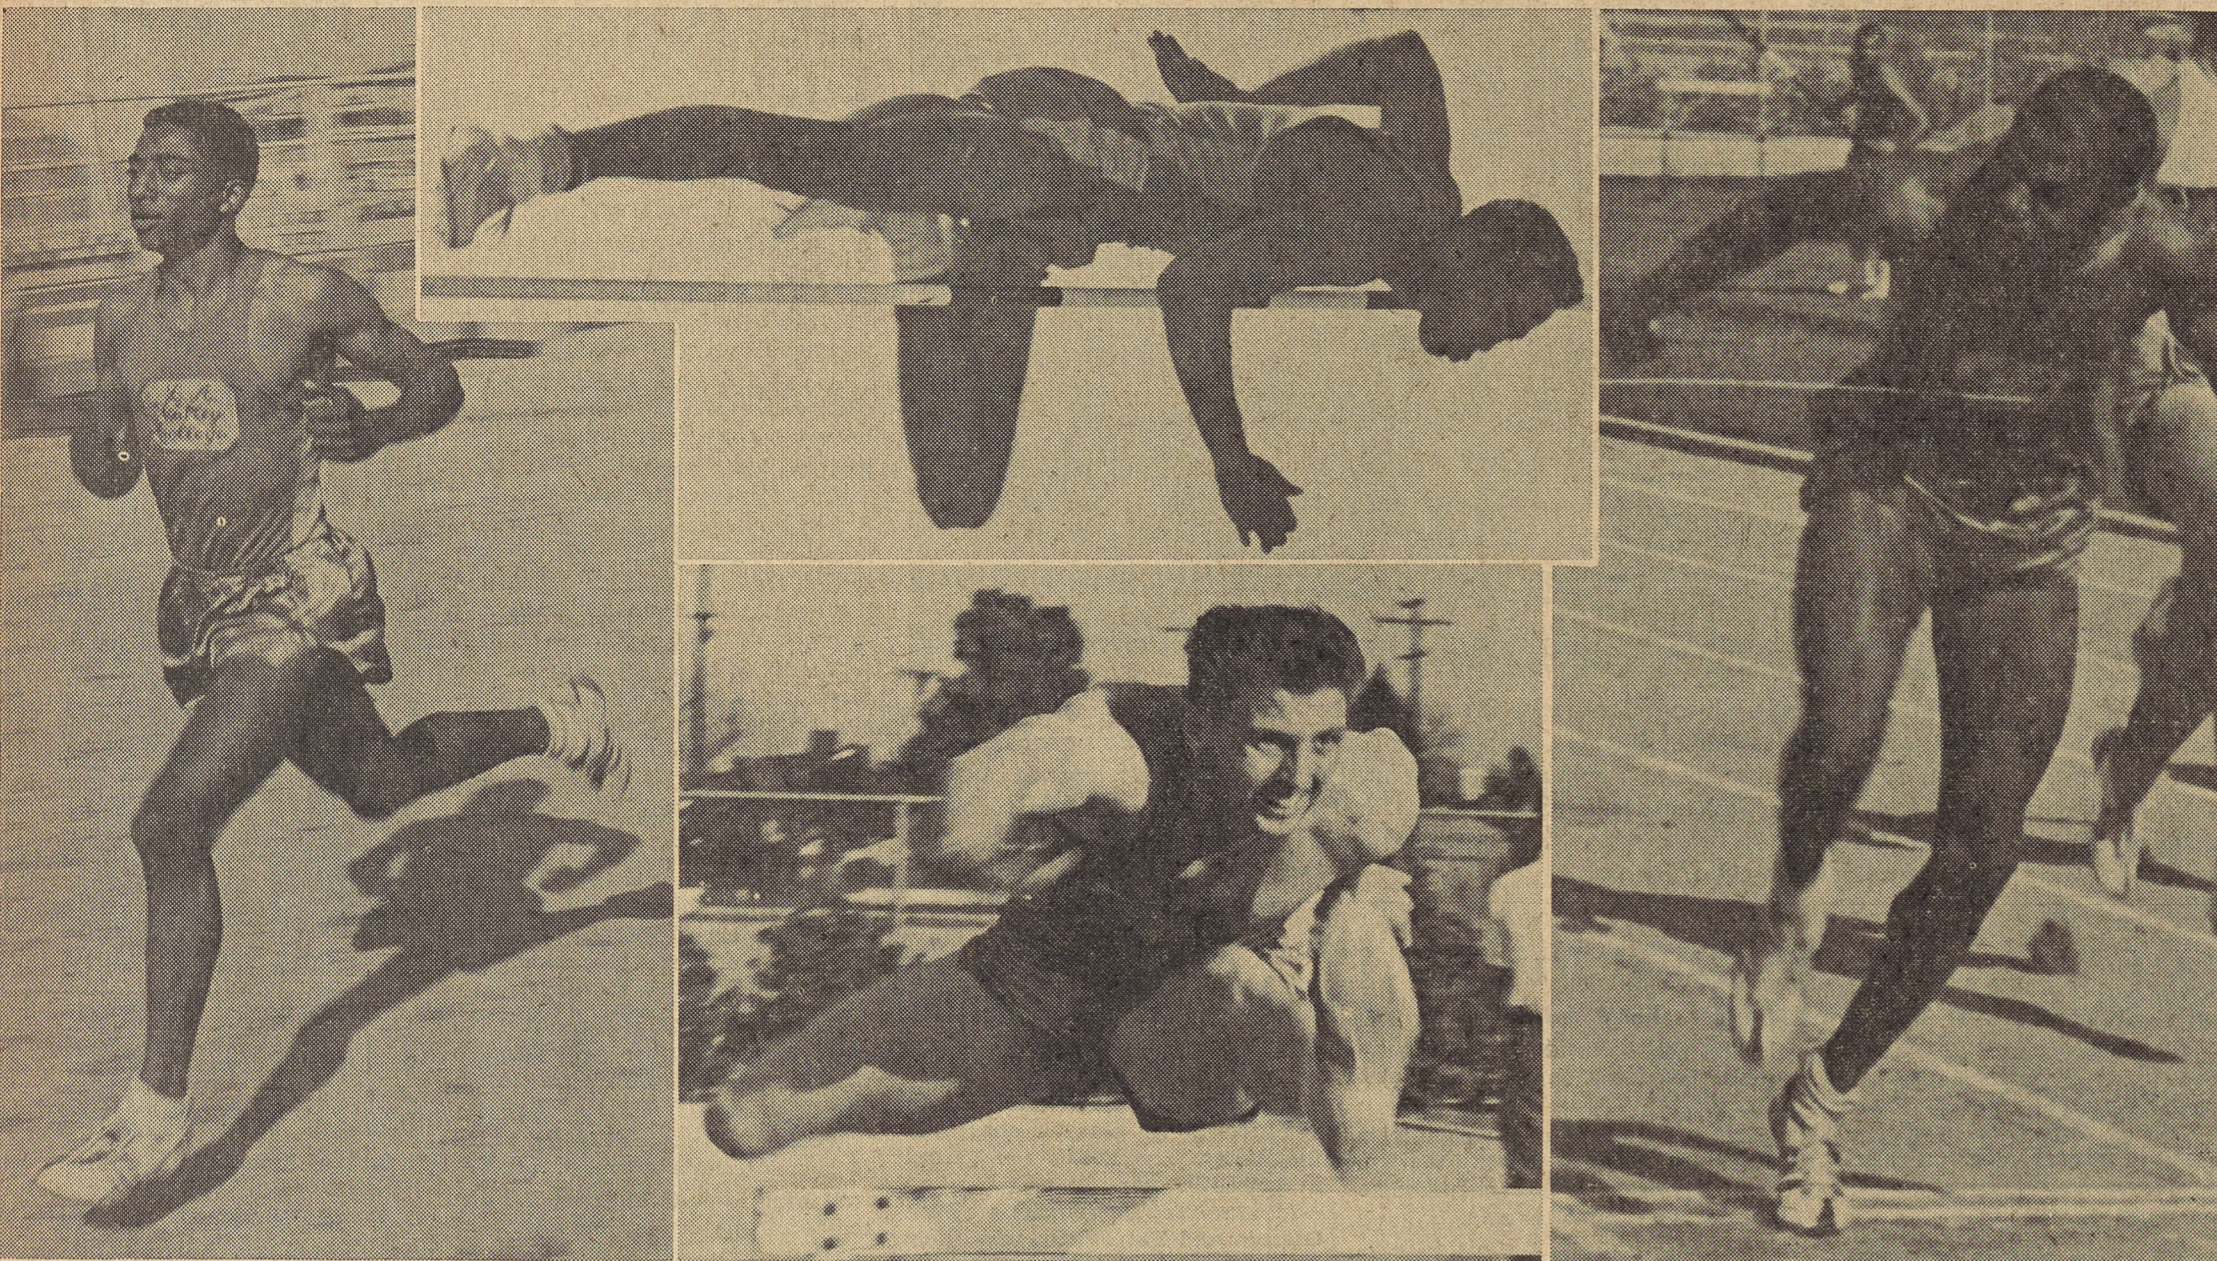

THE TROUBLE WITH SPORTS SHIRTS IS WHEN YOU WEAR AN ORDINARY TIE WITH ONE YOU LOOK LIKE A GANGSTER

HOWEVER there are times that are a little too dressy for an unadorned throat (as when you're wearing a blazer), and for these the Ascot is finding increasing favor. Women apparently find them madly attractive, and men like their go-to-hell feel once they get around to wearing them. The trick seems to be in tying them; actually, there is nothing to it. All you do is slip the Ascot around your neck, inside the collar, and loop one end over the other below your Adam's apple; and loop it twice so it won't slip down your chest after awhile. ★ It just so happens that, foreseeing this demand, we have gone into the Ascot game. You will find a nice selection at your Eagle Ascot store, which is the same store where you buy Eagle Shirts. ★ Not to change the subject, but this magnificent short-sleeve sports shirt at about $9.00 which we have portrayed here is an exclusive Eagle pattern in two-ply cotton oxford, and comes in blue, green, or burgundy stripes alternating with skinnier black ones on an Eagle's Cream ground. ★ We also have a magnificent matching check; let's see if we can describe it: it's something as though we ran transverse stripes in the same colors across this pattern. No, that's a terrible description, you'd better go take a look for yourself. If you don't know where that would be, drop a line to Miss Aflerbach and she'll write right back with the news.

BIG FOUR—Valley's hopes of winning the Metropolitan Conference championships Saturday night in Bakersfield rest on the performances of the big four. Pictured, left to right are Marvin Murray, middle distance man; Otis Burrell, high jumper; Dave Irons, hurdler; and Pete Davis, sprinter. The big question mark regarding the four team leaders is the condition of Irons, who suffered a pulled muscle four weeks ago, and has been out of action since.

S.C. Next Hurdle For Wiley's Men

BY TED WEISGAL

By virtue of its outstanding win in the Metropolitan Conference Swimming Championships, Valley's squad now rates as the favorites in the Southern California Championships which will be held at Compton today through Saturday.

With unexpected help from Rich Rosen and Moe Lerner, the Monarchs stopped Bakersfield, 110½-108. Host Long Beach, who tied for the dual title with Valley placed a distance third with 85 points.

Today the fighting begins again. This time teams from the Western States and Eastern Conferences will join the remainder of the Metro teams in an attempt to knock the Monarchs off their Southern California championship throne.

Coach Mike Wiley expects this meet to be another close one. "It will be a four-way battle with Orange Coast of the Eastern Conference, Long Beach, Bakersfield and Valley fighting for first place."

Wiley plans on entering "exactly the same team which won the conference meet. The squad is "fairly healthy," said Wiley and continued to state that "Ken Merten is getting over a battle with the German measles but should be well enough to defeat anyone the opposition can place against him."

Merten will compete in the 400-yard individual medley, the 100 and 200-yard breaststrokes and the breaststroke portion of the 400-yard medley relay.

In the conference meet Merten led the surge with victories in all of these events.

Also triple winner and participant in the victorious medley relay team was John Sato. He will compete again in the 100 and 200-yard butterfly, the 200-yard individual medley and the butterfly leg of the medley relay.

Both have been functioning as well oiled machines this season and are expected to win again.

There looms a question mark when the two surprises in the conference meet are considered.

500 FREESTYLE—Mayo (B), 5:12.6. 400 INDIVIDUAL MEDLEY—Merten (V), 4:39.0 (New Metro record; old mark 4:45.7 by Ashleigh, Cerritos, 1963). FINAL SCORE—Valley, 110½; Bakersfield, 108; Long Beach, 85; Santa Monica, 58; Cerritos, 46½; El Camino, 10.

Gymnastics Team Hosts Metro Finals

Valley College's gymnastics team faces its biggest test of the year Friday night at 7:30 when it hosts the annual Metropolitan Conference Finals in the Men's Gymnasium.

Coach Ray Follosco's charges are slight favorites to win after completing the season with a 92-56 victory over El Camino for a perfect 5-0 conference record.

Tickets go on sale in the box office at 7 p.m., since student body cards will not be accepted for admission. The charge is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students and children.

"Because of our consistency throughout the season, I feel we have an excellent chance to win the finals," said Follosco.

Those expected to win gold medals are Gerald Clodfelder, trampoline; Darrel DePue, all-around and tumbling; Bill Stigile, rope; John Maggietti, parallel bars; and Bob Varni, rings.

Injury Plagued Monarchs Seek Metro Track Crown

BY STEVE CHATON
Assistant Sports Editor

Injuries have struck Valley's Metropolitan Conference dual meet champions and a dream for a state track title may have been shattered.

Coach George Ker announced Tuesday that stars Dave Irons, Leonard McElhannon, Roger Wolff, Bill Boyd and Joe Jacobson would miss yesterday's qualifying meet for the Metro finals and only an injury clause has saved them for the finals.

At a meeting of conference officials last week it was decided that injured athletes, with a verification from a physician and qualifying marks in their respective events would be allowed to compete in the conference track and field finals at Bakersfield, Saturday.

Boyd and Jacobson were the newest injuries to Coach Ker's squad. Boyd is suffering from a hamstring pull but should be okay for the finals. Jacobson is bothered with a recurrent illness resulting from contact with poison ivy many years ago. The distance star will be out for the remainder of the season.

Davis Big Hope

Heading Valley's hopes at Bakersfield will be sprint whiz Pete Davis. Beaten once in the 100 and still undefeated in the furlong, Davis could come home with two big wins. Yesterday, Davis went into the qualifying for the long jump and with a leap of 22-7 to his credit, hopes are high for his placing.

Also competing in the preliminaries for the long jump and triple jump (only field preliminaries held) for Valley were Mike Trotter, Jerry Bashin and Otis Burrell. By virtue of a 45-11 triple jump done earlier this season, Irons will compete in the finals Saturday.

Marvin Murray and Rick Penfield subbed for the ailing Boyd and Wolff in yesterday's 440 preliminaries on the basis of their 49.1 and 50.3 timings. Murray will also lead Valley's list of entries in the 880 with a timing of 1:53.2 to his credit. Other Valley entries in the half mile were Steve Shepherd, Bob Cameron and Terry Cheever.

Burrell Leads Jumpers

In the field events, the Monarchs will send an entry led by Burrell and Craig Simmons in the high jump. With marks of 7 feet and 6 feet 4 inches between them, this will be Valley's strongest field event.

Coach Ker will send Monwell Fuller and Dennis Kirkpatrick in the pole vault and Rudy Smidt, Robbie Friedlander, Mike Harrington and Geoff Duncan will represent Valley in the shot and discus.

Local Netters Host Finals

Valley's tennis team received new hopes for doing well in the Metropolitan Conference Finals which the Monarchs host tomorrow and Saturday.

The lease on life came last weekend when the Navratil brothers, Paul and Ivo, reached their potential as tennis stars.

The Navratil brothers represented Valley in the two-day competition, which hosts more than 400 net players each year.

Paul advanced to the third round, defeating Bill Robertson, College of the Sequoias, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2, and Cleg-horn of Cerritos, 6-4, 7-5. He fell in the third round to the eventual champion, Mickey Allison of San Diego.

Spring Sports Are Blooming

By DICK SHUMSKY, Sports Editor

Although Valley athletic teams never seem to fare well during the fall semester they always make up by excelling in spring sports.

This year is no exception. So far three teams have won the Metropolitan Conference dual meet crown and one other is virtually assured of winning.

Valley's swimming, track and gymnastic squads have each closed out dual meet action on top and the golf team is currently in first place.

The swimming team added the Metro final meet to its string of victories last weekend when it edged second place Bakersfield by a mere two points.

Coach Ray Follosco's gym men will host the Metro Finals tomorrow night at 7:30 in the Men's Gym, and all indications are that they will emerge victorious.

The track team will also be out to add the finals, in which all eight teams compete, to its list of achievements this season.

If they do win Saturday night in Bakersfield it will be a credit to the miracle of modern medicine. Going into the meet Valley's athletes look like extras on Ben Casey. But, despite not being physically sound, Valley still rates as a slight favorite to capture the gold cup.

Coaching Change

Valley's football coaching staff was bolstered last week with the announcement that George Goff had been added to the faculty.

In addition to his teaching duties, Goff will serve on Ker's staff, probably as offensive backfield mentor.

Goff comes to Valley from Birmingham High School, where he is best remembered for his 1963 team which won the city championship.

Cerritos Wraps Up Baseball Title; Lions Try for First Division Finish

Although Cerritos has virtually clinched the Metropolitan Conference baseball title, Valley's nine will be battling for a first division finish this weekend when it plays three crucial games.

The first comes Friday when the Monarchs travel for a 3:30 p.m. contest with Long Beach. It is expected that Dan Brady will be the starting Valley pitcher in that game, and he will be in quest of his sixth Metro victory.

On Saturday the Monarchs return home to host a double header with El Camino beginning at noon. Al Glanz and Bob Fredrick will hurl for the locals.

Cerritos pulled three games out in the conference title last Saturday with a double header victory over Valley by the scores of 10-0 and 10-2.

The most exciting game of the season took place last Friday when Valley scored a 9-7 win over San Diego in 14 innings. The winning runs were driven in when Kit Putnam ripped a single to right center scoring Rick Amazolla and Jim Petrilla. Brady, who relieved starting pitcher Putnam in the ninth inning picked up the win.

Lions Face Bucs For Golf Title

Valley's golf team capitalized on two defeats dealt to Santa Monica City College to pull away and gain sole possession of first place in the Metro Conference.

Last week El Camino played the spoiler role by beating the Corsairs, but the Lions failed to take advantage of the loss as they slipped to San Diego.

Monday, the Monarchs made their move and pulled away from Santa Monica as they trounced East Los Angeles 53-1, while the Corsairs fell to San Diego in a close match. The conference standing now show coach Charlie Mann's crew in first place with San Diego and Santa Monica tied for the runnerup spot. The locals travel to Riviera Country Club tomorrow to meet the Bucs in the final Metro meet of the season.

"There's no question about it," said coach Mann, "we'll win."
